

SCHOOL STORIES

>> Design a BOOK COVER for your story. Perhaps you will write it one day! Write a BLURB (a description of what's in the book) next to your ILLUSTRATION.

Do you like reading school stories?
Let's plan a story of your own!

First, think of a name for your MAIN CHARACTER.

Then, decide a name for the SCHOOL they go to.

Does this school have any SPECIAL features?

Invent names for OTHER CHARACTERS in the story.

One of the most famous school stories is the Harry Potter series of books set in Hogwarts, a special school for witches and wizards.

Did you know that its author, J.K. Rowling, came up with the idea when she was delayed on a long train journey? She has said that by the time she got to London's King's Cross Station, she had invented the Hogwarts world! Sometimes, the best ideas come to us at surprising times.

Based on Take Me To School: A School Journal for Young Explorers by Mary Richards, published by Agnes & Aubrey, £8.95. For more books and activities visit our website www.agnesandaubrey.com or follow us @agnesandaubrey
